Attention: Peter Rouse

Peter,

In the "Search for Talent" for more than 25 years with leading consumer goods companies (Parmalat Canada, Diageo PLC, Campbell Soup Company of Canada, Novartis, and Unilever Canada) Rouse Resources has provided me with exceptional leaders and executive talent that made the leadership and performance difference.

Time after time, they have consistently delivered talent that has driven performance to new and sustainable levels. They bring a commitment to partner and spent the time up front to fully understand the role, the type of candidate, and the cultural fit that was required.

It's more than using a great database of potential candidates'; they do an active, targeted, and disciplined search process, which is based on the key requirements of the role.

Peter constantly kept me informed on the searches progress, the candidates, and market place!

Their process delivers best-in-class candidates with their extensive market knowledge, disciplined search process, with first class service, on an agreed timeline, all of which ensures the client and candidate satisfaction every time.

Peter and the entire Rouse Resources team embrace the importance of meaningful, long-term client relationships and specialize in assessing and recruiting business leaders with outstanding track records that will create a competitive advantage and sustainable value.

They adhere to a code of professional ethics with an emphasis on professionalism, honesty and integrity.

Sincerely,
